Outdoor Lighting Perspectives is doing a demonstration. This company is recommended by a landscape architect that Barbara has worked with in the past, and has done coordination and installation on both individual residential and group properties (townhouse/condo communities etc.) with architects and landscape architects. What sets this company apart from others is the investment they have made in designing and manufacturing the fixtures used in lighting installations and their experience with professional architects. Manufacturing their own fixtures guarantees quality control and availability of the fixtures for future additions or replacements. The company sells the fixtures retail, meaning that you can purchase fixtures separately from their installation services. Please join us for this demonstration and information session. We'll bring the group together again for an information session with a landscape architect in the weeks ahead.
