

Photo gallery: Washington Triangle garden clean up

Description

Check out the space at Washington Triangle for a fresh layer of mulch and clean garden beds. Our community came out to help on Sunday, September 17, 2023, providing over thirty volunteer hours to spruce up the space for fall. Volunteers from neighborhood, Walnut Hills High School, and Keep Cincinnati Beautiful really showed up as evidenced from the images above.

Thank you to our neighbor, Jack Wolking for his generous donation to NANA gardens. Mr. Wolking acknowledged the work of our Seasongood Square gardeners as brightening his day as he views the gardens from The Belvedere Cincinnati. The funds will be used to add color and creativity to the space.

NANA Beautification committee

Did you know that NANA beautification works with nine community spaces, managed by eleven volunteers and contributes to the flowerpots and banners that stand as welcome signs to our community? We are also planning monthly events to clean up the area and provide community space. As you enjoy the neighborhood, take a moment to notice the areas we maintain.

- Washington Triangle
- Season good Square
- Dana Triangle
- Pam Smitherman Memorial Garden
- Dana Triangle
- Dana Roundabout
- North Avondale Recreation Center
- North Avondale Sign at Clinton Springs
- Traffic Circle at Dakota and Marion

Do you maintain a community space or are you interested in volunteering?

Email NANA Beautification Chair, Bridget McComas at mccomas_bridget@yahoo.com.

Date Created

October 9, 2023
Author
bridget-mccomas

default watermark