

North Avondale History: the cemetery behind Hirsch Center

Description

Linda Kreindler, editor of the North Avondale history page on Facebook, was recently asked about the cemetery behind the Hirsch Center on Reading Rd. Linda shared this great article with maps, photos, etc. On the map it shows Clinton St. which was renamed to present day Burton Ave. Some of you might remember the cemeteries. There were two per the map. This article and research was completed in 2013 on the Digging Cincinnati History blog by Ann Senefeld.
