

Library News: September 2021

Description

default watermark

The poster features a stylized illustration of a forest where the trees are represented by open books with red covers and black spines. The ground is white with scattered pages. The title 'I Love My Librarian!' is written in a large, blue, cursive font, with the word 'Award' in a smaller, red, cursive font below it. A diagonal watermark reading 'default watermark' is visible across the center. Below the title, the text 'Nominations open through Sept. 27, 2021' and 'Ten librarians will win $5000!' are displayed. Further down, it states 'Library users can nominate librarians working in public, school, college, community college, and university libraries.' and provides the website 'ilovelibraries.org/ilovemylibrarian'. At the bottom, the logos for the Carnegie Corporation of New York and the New York Public Library are shown, followed by the ALA American Library Association logo.

I Love My Librarian!
Award

Nominations open through Sept. 27, 2021

Ten librarians will win $5000!

Library users can nominate librarians working in public, school, college, community college, and university libraries.

ilovelibraries.org/ilovemylibrarian

  New York Public Library

ALAAmericanLibraryAssociation

During the Aug. 10 meeting of the Cincinnati & Hamilton County Public Library Board of Trustees, board members agreed to end the practice of issuing fines for overdue items. Fines for late items had previously been suspended at the start of the pandemic, and then this practice was later extended through 2020 by the Library Board of Trustees. This latest decision makes the suspension of late fines permanent, with a few important changes customers need to know about. This change goes into effect Sept. 26, 2021.

Details about borrowing Library materials can be found in our online FAQ, but some key points are:

- Reminders to customers that their item is overdue are sent by phone, text, or email at five days and 12 days overdue.
- At 30 days overdue, customers receive a bill for items that have not been returned and have been classified as "lost." Previously, customers did not receive a bill until an item was overdue for 45 days.
- The Library locks a customer's account if any item is 12 days overdue, meaning no additional print items can be checked out until either the overdue item is returned or the customer has paid the replacement fee for it.
- Once unpaid replacement fees reach $50 and remain at $50 or above for 30 days or longer, customers are referred to a collection agency.

These changes do not apply to library cards that have never had late fees associated with them, such as Child-Only, Teen-Only, Adult-Only, Educator, and Book Club cards.

We are looking for a Homework Helper at the St. Bernard Branch Library.

Position Summary: This position is responsible for working with youth to provide homework support through the Homework Help Program, as well as engaging youth in a variety of STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art, Math) activities during non-academic periods (winter break, summer, etc.) to help prevent academic loss.

To view the rest of Job Description Click Here

Events | Cincinnati & Hamilton County Public Library \(bibliocommons.com\)

Date Created

September 1, 2021

Author

northavondale

default watermark